RESTRICTIONS ARE LIFTING

Governor Whitmer issued a statement about lifting some of the restrictions put in place to curb the spread of COVID-19. Social distancing is still required but gatherings of 100 people or less are now allowed. Non-essential medical, dental, and veterinary visits, retail and auto showrooms are open.

Beginning June 8, restaurants are able to open for dine in service at 50% capacity. Also outdoor pools, day camps, and outdoor fitness classes are able to open. On June 15, barber shops, salons, and massage businesses can also open. Also, the executive order clarifies that face coverings cover nose and mouth while inside enclosed public places.

She also extended the eviction protection order to June 12.
